Listening in Music

Branching out

I can listen with sustained concentration to different pieces of music, instrumental and vocal. I can talk about the significant influences at times within history and within society or culture.

Growing more

I share my experiences of listening to different types of music, both in and out of school. I can talk about musical extracts that I like including songs that inspire me and create responses.

Growing

I enjoy listening to different musical extracts and create stories, learn about traditions and learn about how music was part of people's lives in the past. I enjoy listening to live performances and talk about how different extracts of music make me feel.

I can listen to rhymes and songs, remembering some of the words and joining in at the same time as my friends. When I listen carefully, I can move to the music and talk about how it makes me feel.
